

ALABAMA GIVING

Alabama Giving is an association of grantmaking organizations that works to increase, promote, and encourage philanthropy by helping its members share knowledge, collaborate and advocate to improve conditions in Alabama.

Strategic Priorities: Grow Philanthropy, Strengthen Philanthropy, Ensure Sustainability

Membership is open to community, family, private or corporate foundations; grant making donor advised funds; giving circles, and all grantmaking organizations supporting Alabama charitable projects and organizations.

The benefits or value-add of membership include the following:

- Networking and interaction with others across the state that are making grants
- Learning/sharing opportunities to build knowledge, experience and capacity
- Access to regional and national philanthropic organizations and individuals interested in investing in Alabama
- Connections to state, regional and national experts that are knowledgeable on issues that are important to AG members
- Working collaboratively and strategically with other grant makers on issues of shared interest
- Access to data, research reports, policy briefs, articles regarding philanthropy
- Up-to-date technical assistance
- Visibility within the state's philanthropic community
- Discounted fees for workshops and webinars

Alabama Giving is funded by membership dues and from Sustainability Grants from various member foundations that are committed to the growth and effectiveness of philanthropy in Alabama and the long term viability and success of Alabama Giving. There are also Special Project grants provided for speakers, programs, and research projects. If you are interested in a Sustainability Grant or a Special Project Grant, we welcome this additional support and are glad to discuss these options and opportunities.

www.alabamagiving.org

Jera Stribling – 205-879-0799

jstribling@jsbcf.org